Qur’an teaching for your community.

Live online classes for adults and children in separate cohorts, taught by Hamza Abdul-Tawwaab, a Ḥāfiẓ and former imam. Reading from the letters, tajwīd, and memorizing Juz ʿAmma.

HOSTING

No fee

No hosting charge or revenue share for the masjid.

GROUP TUITION

$50 / month

Per student. Ask privately about financial support.

CLASS STATUS

Cohorts forming

Children preparing to start; adult groups forming. US time zones.

What the masjid does

Share the invitation. Announce adult and children’s classes separately.

Name one contact. Choose someone we can coordinate with.

Explain the need. Tell us who is interested and what would help.

Optional sponsorship. A masjid may support students from its community.

What we arrange

Placement and teaching. A reading call helps establish each student’s starting point. Children attend with a parent.

Class administration. Enrollment, reminders, payments, and private support conversations.

Recording access. Adult recordings are available while enrolled. Children’s classes are never recorded.

How it begins

01 / TALK

Discuss your community’s needs and whether the program fits.

02 / ARRANGE

Agree on the invitation, placement calls, and class hours before payment.

03 / BEGIN

Students meet live each week, with time to read and receive correction.

Start with a conversation.
